Japanese Society of Applied Entomology and Zoology

President
Fujisaki, Kenji
Vice-President
Noda, Hiroaki
(for 2009–2010)

The Japanese Society of Applied Entomology and Zoology was founded in 1957, as a result of a merger between the Japanese Society for Applied Zoology (Journal: Oyo-Doubutsugaku Zasshi), founded in 1929, and the Nippon Society of Applied Entomology (Journal: Oyo-Kontyu), founded in 1938. Membership is open to researchers who are interested in the fields of applied entomology and zoology, including acarology, nematology, pesticides and pest control equipment.

Inquiries regarding membership and subscriptions should be addressed to the President, Japanese Society of Applied Entomology and Zoology, c/o Japan Plant Protection Association, 1–43–11, Komagome, Toshima-ku, Tokyo 170–8484, Japan.

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced in any form or by any means, electronically, mechanically by photocopying or otherwise without the prior permission of the editor.

Notice for Photocopying
If you wish to photocopy any work of this publication, you have to get permission from the following organization to which licensing of copyright clearance is delegated by the copyright owner.

Lost Numbers
Requests for missing numbers to be filled without charge must be received within 90 days of publication of the issues concerned.