Fuzzy analysis on inhabitants' satisfaction and intention of moving out in townscape husbandry district of kanazawa

A study on the spatial concept of dairue people as defined by their way of spatial recognition and behavior in their dwelling life In the case of man long village in the meng la in xishuangbanna

Spatial units arrangements of the double-income couple from the view point of the individualization

A basic study on the spatial structure of multi-story housing part 3

The realities and the changes of the elderly's daily living activities in nursing homes

A study on living spaces at the 24hours child day care nursery school (2)

Description of grammar consists in supervisory figures by applying predicate logic concept

Experimental study on perception of spatial volume based on pao Study of pao as a unit of spatial volume (part 2)

Types of path choice in exhibition space in a museum Study on pedestrian path choice and spatial cognition in exhibition space in a museum (part 1)

Application of non-locally distributed time resource

Spatial composition of vacant land enclosed by building volumes A study on spatial composition of contemporary urban vacant land

A study of the various associations supporting life of the old people in an aging and depopulated district

The characteristics of shinsyu-ueda's landscape and townscape from the screens of film works ~A basic study on townscape improvement and preservation in the view of a city as film location part 1~

An analysis procedure of local municipality by using a multi-layered cellular automata

Study on life cycle cost of a resource circulation condominium Study on economical assessment of housing system for sustainable society

Learning effect of interior finishing and building services works A study on housing project interior finishing works part 3

Feature of each zone of copenhagen area on housing condition of elderly people -Case on visitors of senior activity centers-

The reconstructed hatto of shokoku-ji of 1685

Contents of contract for building hiyamizu church by yousuke tetsukawa

Typology and composition in the modern japanese style residence "kohkien" Roof typology and composition in traditional japanese architecture

On the career of edgar giesenber and his contribution to the design of the old ministry of justice building

On the specifications of foundations of masonry buildings in the meiji era

On the changing of front spans and eave's spaces in maize tribe's rural houses of fenghuang xian in china Study on the space construction of minorities' rural houses of hunan in china part 3

On a waterwork of the gardens of versailles The technology and the fruits of the marly machine

A study on the formation of the agglomeration-character in the development of the germanischs nationalmuseum

On the modern facilities established in the old site of the osaka castle in the early years of meiji

Characteristics of visitors' activities at the urban waterfront area A study on changes of the characteristics of water-familiarization part 2