A study on development of community practice and the roles of a support organization in a rental collective housing —Studies on the collaboration system between residents and support systems— in the community based housing—..............................................Noriko SAKURAI and Ikuko KOYABE 1

Actual conditions on the renewal procedures of the building agreement —Study on sustainable environmental management system in the building agreement areas (part 1)............................................................Katsuhiko SUZUKI 9

The arrangement of the large-scale multi-storey apartment building in taipei city —Study on the large-scale multi-storey apartment building in taipei city part 2—..............................................................Cheng-te CHU, Tzong-harn LI, Yoshinobu KIKUCHI and Yasuo SAKURAI 17

Considerations on characteristics of living environment and typology of shophouse in old town ones ayutthaya (thailand).................................................................................................................................Nawit ONGSAVANGCHAI, Masayoshi KUWAHARA and Shoji FUKO 25

A study on cognitive distance generated by ascending and descending stairs Fundamental study for the spatial planning of large-scale architecture based on a distance part 2.....................................Ryo-ta YANASE and Masashi SAKITA 33

A study on the relationships between behavior and territories of elderly in “care retirement house” —Daisuke ISAI and Jun UENO—...........................................39

The changing of corner planning with nursery program for a year A case study on planning of nursery room from the view point of practical using of space by teacher—Maato NISHIMOTO, Shoji IMI and Seiichi KINOSHITA 47

Activities and characteristics of space use in senior centers in arhus, denmark —Tatsuya NISHIKAWA and Yasuhiro NAGASAWA 57

Classification of method of campus facilities characteristics by their importance degree and satisfaction quality for facilities management—Masayuki OKADA, Kazunori IKADA, Sadayuki SHIMODA, Yasunobu ONISHI and Hideo OKA 65

Comparative analyses of design characteristics of dwelling units between super-high-rise and mid- to high-rise residential buildings...........................................................................................................Koizumi KAWADA and Seiichi FUKAO 73

A study of avoidable distance against robot —Atsushi ENTA, Hideyoshi WATANABE, T'onsone SAO, Masaki TAKAHASHI and Kazuto HAYASHIDA 81

An ecological approach to place selection by wheelchair users: A study on a welfare support facility for disabled people in sapporo —Satoshi TANAKA, Satoru MORI and Yoshinobu OKU 87

A correlation analysis of spatial cognition and spatial consciousness by the cross-sectional recollection method —Study on the cross-sectional composition of landscape-architecture (part 2).................................................................................................................................Hiroshi SUZUKI, Hiroshi TSUMITA and Akira KURYU 95

Studies on territorial configurations in residential area and village extensions found in a small island —In the case of small villages, oshima, ues and kashino in ki oshima island in japon—Tomotane HONDA, Takayuki HIRATA, Masakazu OSHISHI, Yoshikazu MIYAKI, Miyuki MIYANO and Taku KAKUNAGA 103

Vacant houses and their management in hilly rural areas —A case study in hayakawa town, yamanashi prefecture—.....................................................................................Toshihiko YUSA, Haruhiko GOTO, Daisuke KURAUCHI and Koyo MURAKAMI 111

The effects of the public participation to planning process and of the spatial elements on continuous management of park by residents —Planning/management process design for residents to take the lead in community management—.................................................Summu KAWAWARA, Hajime OHKI and Shigeru SATOH 119

A study on the modifications carried out on the trevi fountain by gian lorenzo bernini........................................................................................................Manabu SASAKI 127

A study on the evolution details of the movement for city beauty in osaka during the prewar period from articles in ‘daily newspaper’ —Keisuke TAKEMURA, Koichi KANA and Kohei AKASAKI 133

The influence of interval between the street lights on impression and cognitive distance of the nighttime street .................................................................................................................................Ryo-ta YANASE and Fumimori SAKAI 139

The owners’ activities and decision making in reconstruction projects of the large-scale condominium complex in korea —A study on the owners-initiated condominium reconstruction part 2—Chihaya YUUM and Mitsu TAKADAYA 145

Analysis of the way how homeless policies have been developed in finland.............................................................................................................................Takahiro HASEGAWA 151

Analysis of the repairing expenses of public day nursery buildings by independent type in setagaya-ku, tokyo —Takashi KOSHIBE and Erika NAGANO 159

The yearning for shinzen-zukuri in the 17th century and it’s level of understanding represented in the images of “narrative picture-scroll of the tale of ise” drawn by sumiyoji yokoi —A research on the upper class comprehension of residences shown in the narrative pictures in early modern period part 2—..............................................................................................Makiko TSUCHIYA 167

The characteristics of the landscape structure in minami-kayabu district and the fisherman’s house in minami-kayabu district and their facilities layouts in meiji, taisho and early showa periods A study of the gyoza in former osatsuba basho, hokkaido part 1..............................................................................................Ryuusuke Matsuoka and Osamu SATO 175

The activity of housing unions and its relation with the development of suburbs in hakodate before WW2 —Takahito SUZUKI, Takahiro KADO and Shigei sae IEGAMI 183

The study on the place and location of modern wooden high-class japanese houses by the tea party record as ‘totochakaiki’....................................................................................................................Kanso TSUCHII 191

Formation and development process of system of architectural agent for procedures required by law —The process for architects & building engineers law— ...........................................................................Kiyotaka HAYAMI 199

The body culture on city plannings of le corbusier in the 1920’s A study on the theories of body culture of le corbusier and pierre winter, his collaborator part 3—............................................................................Manabu MORIYAMA 205

Principles of latent meaningfulness in tange kenzo’s concepts of tradition and creation Study of the formation of tange kenzo’s architectural discourse —Benotti JACQUET—..............................................................211

A study on the shugakukan imperial “villa” through the itinerary of retired emperor reigns —Akira TANAKA and Tadanao MAEDA—.........................................................225

On “peritita dell’ arte” in vencentino scammozzi’s architectural theory —Tetsu ISHIMAKAWA—.........................................................231