CONTENTS

Symposium: Geographical Skills: Exploring the Worldwide New Wave of Geographical Education
General Consideration ........................................... 129

WADA, F.: Geography Teaching Materials of ARGUS as a Practicing Example of National Geography Standards: On the Activities that is aimed at Student Acquiring Geographical Skills ........................................... 140

SHIMURA, T.: The Development of Geography, the National Curriculum for England and Geographical Skill in England ......................................................... 149

HIRAKAWA Y., Nu Nu WAI, NAGATA, S., YUASA, S., TAKATA, J. and WADA, F.: Comparing the Development of Problem-solving Skills in High School Geography in Japan with that in the United States ........................................... 157

NAKAMURA, K.: Geography, Geographical Education, and Geographical Skills ......................................................... 171

MIYOSHI, Y.: Geographical Skills and Using ICT in England ......................................................... 176

KUMANO, T.: The likelihood of thinking skills acquisition through activities: How does development education ensure students' thinking processes? ......................................................... 184

Discussion and Conclusion ........................................... 193

Book Reviews ......................................................... 210

Meeting Reports ...................................................... 224

Notes and News ...................................................... 230

The Japanese Society for Geographical Sciences (Chiri-Kagaku-Gakkai)
c/o Department of Geography, Graduate School of Letters, Hiroshima University, Higashi-Hiroshima 739–8522, Japan.