CONTENTS

Symposium: Knowledge, Learning and Geography
ISHIMARU T., SATO Y. and TOMOZAWA K.: General Consideration ................................................. 129

Articles

UMEDA K.: Regional Learning System and Technical Development in Dairy Farming Region .................................................. 131

FUJITA K.: Technological Learning and Circulation of Knowledge and Information in Non-metropolitan Industrial Area; A Case Study of the Innovative SMEs and Wholesalers in the Suwa Area, Nagano Prefecture ........................................... 143

FUNCK C.: “Learning Tourism” and the Creation of Regional Knowledge ......................................................... 160

TOMOZAWA K.: Evolution of University Start-ups under Knowledge Based Economy: Focusing on Chugoku-Shikoku Region in Japan ................................................................. 174

ISHIMARU T.: Commodifying “Knowledge” Among the Shrinked Business Service Market in Japanese Metropolitan Area .................................................. 185

OKAHASHI H.: New Developments in Japan’s Hilly and Mountainous Areas in the Age of Knowledge-Oriented Economy: with Special Reference to the Case of Takeni, Fukutomi Cho, Higashi-Hiroshima City ........................................ 194

KUWATSUKA K.: Growth of ICT Industry and Knowledge Acquisition at Remote Area: Study on Experiences of Call Centers in Okinawa .......... 205

General Overview

KATO K.: Comments ............................................................................................................. 220

SATO Y.: Conclusion ............................................................................................................. 222

Book Review ....................................................................................................................... 225

Meeting Reports ............................................................................................................... 230

Notes and News ............................................................................................................... 235