Dear Dr. Lamkin,

On behalf of the Center for International Rehabilitation Research Information and Exchange (CIRRIE), I commend the conference organizers for the success of this event, the International Conference on Assistive Technology/International Biophilia Rehabilitation. This event will be an important mechanism for the exchange of information and expertise in the region. Since CIRRIE's mission is also to facilitate the sharing of information and expertise in rehabilitation research internationally, we applaud the work of this conference and look forward to future conferences on this theme. For information about the information resources available through CIRRIE, we invite the conference participants to visit http://cirrie.buffalo.edu/

Sincerely,

John H. Stone, PhD
