Conference Focusing on
How to Restructure the Rehabilitation Medicine

Jose Leon-Carrion, Ph.D.
Conference Chairman
Department of Experimental Psychology,
University of Seville

It is my pleasure to invite you to attend the 11th INTERNATIONAL BIOPHILIA REHABILITATION CONFERENCE, organized by the International Biophilia Rehabilitation Academy and hosted by the University of Seville, Spain, on September 12th-13th, 2014.

The conference will focus on how to restructure rehabilitation medicine and assist patients in recovering functionality after brain injury, particularly in the aging population.

This meeting will provide an international platform for relevant rehabilitation designed to treat neuropsychological dysfunctions and disorders resulting from brain injury.

The ultimate goal is to further improve the care and welfare of an aging society and all those who suffer TBI.

We hope you will join us in the historic city of Seville and participate in advancing our knowledge of rehabilitation strategies.
