The application of rehabilitative techniques and specific devices becomes for each rehabilitation specialist an important moment in the therapeutic choice.

The first step of each therapeutic moment should be the awareness of the behaviours and responses perceived by the patient mediated by each specific stimulation.

The experience of this work group full shows all the response capabilities of the body system toward specific rehabilitative gestures founded on scientific literature and on the correct integration of different rehabilitative techniques that uses in the best way possible the manual specific characteristic of the physiotherapist and the most modern methods that are based on the use of new devices.
