JOURNAL OF JAPAN ACADEMY OF PSYCHIATRIC AND MENTAL HEALTH NURSING
Vol. 15, No. 1, 2006

< Foreword > ........................................................................................................................................... Yuko Nagai

< Original Articles >
Drug Dependent Person's Repeated Experience of Hospitalization to Psychiatric Hospitals:
Narratives of Persons who Experienced Multiple Hospitalization — Minori Takarada, Asako Takei —— 1

Thoughts of Nurses and Actual Nursing Care for Schizophrenia Patients
Hospitalized for Attempted Suicide
— Consideration of Nursing Care Designed to Prevent Recurrence of Suicide Attempts —
............................................................................................................................................................. Sachiko Nagashima —— 11

Subjective Experience of Psychiatric Nurses who had Suffered from Violence by Inpatients — Katsura Tanimoto —— 21

< Reports >
Nurses Dilemma on Patients' Restrain with Psychiatric Problems
............................................................................................................................................................. Ayumi Kono, Hiroshi Kamigori —— 32

Examination about Degree of Listening and Explanation of Nurses to Schizophrenia Patients
— Connection with the Type of Institution and The Nurses’ Clinical Psychiatric Experience —
............................................................................................................................................................. Michiko Yamane —— 41

Discourse with Patients in an Acute Psychiatric Ward
............................................................................................................................................................. Shoko Ohtagara —— 50

Current Situation of Medical Institutions as Learning Environment
— Focusing the Rolls of Nursing Practice Advisors (Part 2)
............................................................................................................................................................. Sachiko Deguchi, Keiko Matsumoto, Asako Takei —— 58

The Nursing Judgment Concerning Schizophrenic In-patients’ Discharge from Acute Psychiatric Units
............................................................................................................................................................. Junko Niimura, Michika Tanoue, Naoko Cho —— 67
Takako Ohkawa, Mayumi Ohtake, Yoko Nakayama

The Process to be Certified Nurse for Psychiatry and Many Problems After Certification
............................................................................................................................................................. Yoshinori Kinjo, Akiko Miki —— 77

The Nursing Care for Enabling Schizophrenic In-patients to be Discharge within Three Months and Following Inquiry about Their Community Life
............................................................................................................................................................. Mayumi Ohtake, Takako Ohkawa, Michika Tanoue —— 86
Junko Niimura, Naoko Cho, Yoko Nakayama

The Actual Condition and Support System of Violence against Nurses
by Inpatients in a Psychiatric Closing Ward ..................................................................................................... Kaori Yasunaga —— 96

Psychiatric Nurses' Awareness Process of Psychiatric Patients' Somatic Complications
— A Modified Grounded Theory Approach — .................................................................................................. Teruko Ishibashi —— 104