Abstract: While Japan Society for Management Information (JASMIN) is an Affiliated Organization of Association for Information Systems (AIS), Japan Association for Information Systems (JPAIS) is the only AIS chapter in Japan which has been internationally active. As usual, JPAIS holds its Annual Meeting during this spring JASMIN meeting, to have officers report the activities of the past year, and to discuss the next year's activities. Members, as well as those interested in AIS conferences such as ICIS and PACIS, are more than welcome to attend.

AGENDA

2. Plan of the activities in 2010/2011
3. Any other businesses
(Right now JPAIS does not have any accounts to be approved.)

JPAIS now counts a little more than 40 members, and more than half of them are international members. Given its small size, the Association has been operated in an informal way. In line with this spirit, the Board intends to proceed more like a town hall meeting, rather than a formal AGM. Please come to meet the Board members, to give your views and for networking.
