Japanese Journal of Behavior Analysis Vol. 25 No. 2

Contents

Editorial:
◆ Satoru Shimamune: Continuous Improvement in the Publication Process of the Japanese Journal of Behavior Analysis: Revised Submission Guidelines and Publication Manual ................................................................. 90

Announcement:
◆ Satoru Shimamune: Call for Papers for Special Issue in Tribute to Dr. Masaya Sato ..... 94

Article:
◆ Tomohiro Fukumori: Interdependent Group-Oriented Contingencies and Students' Adaptive Behavior: Regular Elementary School Students and a Student With a Developmental Disability .............................. 95

Review:
◆ Takayuki Tanno and Takayuki Sakagami: Organizing the Molecular-Molar Controversy in Behavior Analysis: Classifying the Controversy According to Principle of Reinforcement, Levels of Analysis, and Behaviorism ........ 109

Comments:
◆ Kyoichi Hiraoka: Ambivalent Responses: Comments on Tanno & Sakagami (2011) ... 127

Short Reports:
◆ Tomoyuki Wakazawa and Masahiko Sugiyama: Preferences of Young Children
With Developmental Disabilities: Choosing Activity-Related Cards .......... 131

Comments:
◆ Naoki Yoneyama: Does the Opportunity to Choose Become a Reinforcer?:
Comments on Wakazawa & Sugiyama (2011) ...................................... 144
◆ Kei Ogasahara: Criteria in Choice Making:
Comments on Wakazawa & Sugiyama (2011) ...................................... 147
◆ Kenjiro Aoyama: Before a Full-Fledged Discussion:
Comments on Wakazawa & Sugiyama (2011) ...................................... 150

Practical Research:
◆ Tsutomu Kamiyama and Fumiyuki Noro: Effectiveness of Parent-Implemented Interventions Based on Functional Assessment of Toilet Skills in Young Children With Autism .............................. 153