What Is ‘Hospital Administration’?

Hospital Administration is a multidisciplinary academic framework encompassing medicine, public health, nursing science, economics, business studies, jurisprudence, sociology, social welfare, psychology, industrial engineering, statistics and architecture. It is based on management science in the healthcare field.

The Department conducts administrative assistance for Juntendo University Hospitals as well as research and education on hospital administration, medical economics, medical information, and medical law. Our main activity is practical research on the evaluation of medical quality. In addition, we study healthcare and mental care by measuring autonomic nervous system function. We cordially welcome young medical students who would like to pursue this practical science of healthcare management in this era of healthcare system reform.

The Research Themes

1) Hospital management and medical management.
2) The evaluation of the medical quality.
3) Medical safety and risk management.
4) The medical ethics.
5) The autonomic nervous system and the intestinal environment
