The Japanese Journal of Health and Medical Sociology

Vol. 21 No. 2 2010

Burnout of the Nurse
: A Relations of the Education and Stress .......................... Makiko TANAKA .......................... 1

Symposium
Introducing Foreign Nurses to Japan through Economic Partnership Agreements
.......................................................... Yuko Ohara-HIRANO .......................... 12

Issues in the Education and Training of Filipino and Indonesian Nurse Candidates
.......................................................... Yoshichika KAWAGUCHI .......................... 30

The Results and Challenges of a Global Sociological Study on the Opening of Japan’s Labor Market in the Fields of Nursing and Care
.......................................................... Shun OHNO .......................... 35

Issues on Receiving Foreign Nurses/Careworkers
: From a case of Economic Partnership Agreement
.......................................................... Wako ASATO .......................... 53

International Migration of Nurses and Care Workers under the New Trend of Demographic Change ................................ Takeo Ogawa .......................... 65

Special Symposium
.......................................................... Chieko KAWADA .......................... 77
.......................................................... Masahira ANESAKI .......................... 80
.......................................................... Kiyohiko KATAHIRA .......................... 82
.......................................................... Atsushi OZAWA .......................... 84
.......................................................... Chifuyu HAYASHI .......................... 87

Original Article
The Practice of the People Who Left the Hansen’s Disease Sanatorium when They Use Medical Treatments
: The Case of the People Who Left the Hansen’s Disease Sanatorium in Okinawa
.......................................................... Yoichiro KUWAHATA .......................... 91

Research Note
The Study of Interaction in the Teaching Situation about the Self Stretching under the Direction of the Judo Therapist
.......................................................... Daigoro EBITA .......................... 104

Academic society and research direction
Stigma as Old and New Problems : In Attendance at XVIII International AIDS Conference
.......................................................... Akitomo SHINGAE .......................... 116

Book Review .......................................................... Mieko HOMMA .......................... 124
.......................................................... Takayuki YAHARA .......................... 126