Welcome to the Special Section on 3D Imaging Technologies and Their Applications

Editor-in-Chief Tsutomu Horikoshi

It is a great pleasure to introduce the special section “Special Section on 3D Imaging Technologies and Their Applications” in the Transactions on Media Technology and Applications (MTA). The objective of the special section is focus on the advances in 3D imaging technology. Initially, we called for papers in the following areas:

- 3D display/systems
- Aerial displays/Light fields display/Holography
- 3D image processing/3D capture
- 3D visualization systems/applications
- 3D Applications / Systems
- Projection mapping
- Virtual reality / Augmented reality/ Mixed Reality
- Human factors
- Others
- Others

With the great effort made by the associate editors in the guest editorial committee and anonymous reviewers, we have finally selected three high quality papers including one invited and two contributed from the leading researchers in the field. We hope that this special section will promote research in boundary fields.
