CONTENTS

Original Text

Taku OJIMA: A Study of inconsistency grasped in the action research of our class ........................................... 1
Kouji KARINO: Freeing Children, Parents, and Teachers through Creative Educational Practice:
   The Pragmatic and Open Style of Education at Shimao Elementary School, Gunma Prefecture ................................................................. 11
Hisayoshi MORI: A Study of the Style of Dewey School’s Curriculum Development
   —Focusing on the Examples of Activities at the Earlier Period (1896–98)— .................. 23
Hiroyuki KAJIYOKA: The Formation of Consent between Teacher and Child —in the clue of the concept of hegemony in Antonio Gramsci— .................................... 35
Terumasa ISHII: A Study of the Reconstruction of the Bloom’s Taxonomy by “the Revised Taxonomy”:
   An Examination of the Two-dimensional Structure of Knowledge Dimension and Cognitive Process Dimension ................................................................. 47
Kazushi KUROTANI: A Method of Constructing Critical Literacy in the classroom
   —Focusing on C. Lankshear’s Discourse Theory— .......................................................... 59
Taku OGASAWARA: The study about the original significance of elementary school’s “Japanese” as seen through the practice in the formation period —Focused on the practice of “Japanese” by the elementary school attached the teacher school in Osaka Prefecture in the beginning of the 1900s— .............. 71
Mariko TAWADA: The Theory of Composition Education and Linguistics by Kazutoshi Ueda
   —A Critical Review of “Sakubun Koyoju-Ho (The Methods of Teaching Composition)”— ⋯⋯ 83
Toshikiko SHINDO: Effects of Metacognitive Strategies on the Meaningful Learning:
   Precondition to Make the Learning of History more Interesting ........................................... 95
Hidekazu YAMADA: The Theory of Material Construction of Teaching History Based on Thematic Approach
   —On the Analysis of Project Social Studies “United States History:
   From Community to Society”— ................................................................. 107
Noriko IWASAKI: The Methods of Instruction that Teachers Cultivate Children’s “Questions”
   —An Analysis of the Practices in Instruction of Science Learning by ISABURO KANBE
   (The Elementary School attached to Nara Women’s Higher Normal School)— ............ 119
Michiko SHIMODE: Analysis of the Pictures “Music for Children” by Carl Orff
   —Focusing on the development of musical experience— .................................................. 131
Yuriko KINOSHITA: Intercultural Learning through E-mail Exchanges ........................................ 141
Yukiko TESHIMA: An Examination on Self-Determination of Educational Practices for Children with Intellectual Disabilities ................................................................. 153
Takaaki SHINTO: Social construction of “university” ................................................................. 163
Kanji HIMENO: Consciousness of Students and Teachers about “Teaching training just before Adoption” ........................................................................... 175
Yoshimi UESUGI: Teacher training on media literacy in Ontario ........................................... 187
Wakio OYANAGI: A Pedagogical Study concerning Framework of Media Education in UK
   —Toward the Exploring the Pedagogical Genealogy of Media Literacy— ...................... 199
Yuhei YAMAUCHI
Toshiyuki KIHARA
Tatsuya HORITA

Book Reviews ........................................................................................................................... 211

Report of the 38th Annual Conference of National Association for the Study of Educational Methods .......... 223

Edited by National Association for the Study of Educational Methods

NII-Electronic Library Service